

The Show must go on!

After only nine days of rehearsal, the young actors in Lee Colee-Atnip's summer acting camp went on to perform their rendition of the Wizard of Oz on opening night last Friday.

Colee-Atnip said the youth camp is in its eighth year and has entertained audiences with shows ranging from Annie to Grease to the Sound of Music.

"I am enthralled with these kids," said Collee-Atnip a 30-year professional veteran of the stage. "They bond like bother and sister in making these productions."

The kids are great to work with, Colee-Atnip added, and the camp wouldn't be made possible without the help of our many sponsors, like the Wimberley Players, who hosted the event.

The show is still on-going and has a rotating cast. Colee-Atnip said the public is invited to see what these kids have put together with only nine days of preparation. This years the kids are handling everything from acting to technical controls.

For show ti mes and other information visit the Wimberley Players website at www.wimberleyplayers.org.

Photo by Dave Cadriel

The Wizard of Oz cast encourages the audience to sing along to "Somewhere over the Rainbow" at the closing of Friday's show.

